Illinois AGRICULTURE in the ClassroomSM

Kristina Baumbach
Education Coordinator
DuPage County Farm Bureau

Ag in the Classroom is a free program that visits DuPage schools to teach the importance of agriculture. The lessons can be adjusted for all age levels and meet learning standards. We would also be happy to be a part of community events that relate to our agricultural literacy program vision and goals. Virtual options are available.

January's Numbers:

3,280 students • 169 teachers
#1 Lesson Topic: Dairy
Total Students Reached to Date: 24,838

Teacher Quote about an AITC Visit:

"Kenna is a wealth of knowledge and her love for what she does shows in her lessons and how it keeps the students engaged. They all have learned so much from Kenna and are so excited each time she comes to visit."

— 3rd Grade Teacher, Briar Glen Elementary

After a well-deserved Christmas break, our team was ready to head back into the classroom in January. This month many students learned about dairy cattle, Illinois specialty crops, and the connection between agriculture and football. Some students discovered how dairy cattle are cared for and made delicious butter. Others learned about Illinois' top specialty crops and where they are grown by completing the Navigating Illinois activity. In our newest football lesson, students made the connections between the equipment used in football and the agriculture products needed to create them. It's been a fast and fun month for AITC, and we're excited to see what February will bring.

The 5th graders at Bower Elementary learned how football relies on agriculture with Kenna.

The 2nd graders at Indian Knoll learned about soil with Kristina.

The 1st graders at Miller Elementary had so much fun making butter with Marilyn.

2024 Bookmark Contest

All 2nd-5th grade classrooms in DuPage County are invited to participate in our spring Bookmark Contest! This year's theme is "If I Were a Farmer". Students should depict what their farm would look like if they were a farmer. This includes pictures showing their farm layout and the crops and animals they would choose to raise. The winner's design will be made into a bookmark and donated to local libraries along with our annual book donation. We will also use the bookmarks as a DCFB promotional item. Entries are due to the DCFB office by April 12th at 3:00pm. Teachers please email dupageaitc@dcbf.org to receive an entry form and full contest rules.

Preparing for Grow Your Own Food

We're getting closer to May, and our BIGGEST Ag in the Classroom project ever! Our staff and volunteers have been hard at work preparing teacher bags, training tutorials, and delivery schedules for the 2024 Grow Your Own Food program. We're so excited for 4th graders all around the county to learn about plants and gardening with our hands-on transplanting activity. We are still looking for some volunteers to help with supply delivery May 6th-9th. Delivery will take place during school hours. If you are interested in helping, please email knorton@dcbf.org.

Families dominate ownership of Illinois farms

I work every day with the people who raised me. Four desks in the farm office provide space for mom, dad, brother, and sister. It's the same crew I sat with at the dinner table in the 1980s. The ones I made memories with on family vacations at theme parks with the fastest roller coasters. The quartet that spent weekend afternoons cleaning field edges and dining on pizza at sundown on Sunday nights.

Relatively speaking, we're among the mainstream. An overwhelming 96% of Illinois farms are owned and operated by families like ours, a statistic worth recognizing in this season that honors National Ag Day on March 19, 2024. Contrary to popular belief, parents, grandparents, spouses, siblings, children, cousins, aunts, uncles and even in-laws make most decisions about how food, feed and fuel are grown. Not faceless corporations.

That's a pleasant surprise to most citizens of the state, according to surveys that show consumers trust family-owned farms but largely believe corporations own them. Motivated to debunk the ownership myth, the Illinois Farm Bureau partnered with the state's commodity groups. Together, they launched the "We Are The 96" campaign a year ago with a big-time commercial during Super Bowl 2023.

Afterward, advertisements hit regional TV stations. Social media messaging exceeded 6 million views on Facebook and Instagram. Pizza boxes from more than 500 Illinois Casey's stores promoted the family farm message during National Pizza Month. The family ownership of farms even made appearances in Chicago movie theaters and transit stations, helping initiate the more than 30 million impressions logged with Illinois consumer audiences.

The campaign with beautiful images and videos of farm families lured looks from farmers who related to the message and non-farmers who desired to know the decisionmakers behind their food choices. On 96% of Illinois farms, family owners select the seed, plant the crops, feed the cows, protect the land, serve their communities, teach the next generation, and hire local talent to help them get it done.

As the most-watched TV event of the year, nothing comes close to the Super Bowl. That's a striking similarity to families owning 96% of Illinois farms. Super Bowl 2024 delivered another campaign commercial touting the family ownership of farms. Keeping with tradition, three generations of our farm family gathered around the TV to watch.

Irish Potato Bites

www.homemadeinterest.com

What you need

20 small red potatoes, small (golf ball size)
1/2 cup corned beef
1/4 cup cheddar cheese, shredded
1 tablespoon butter, melted
1/8 teaspoon salt

Instructions

Fill a large pot with water and bring it to a boil. Add potatoes and boil until they are fork tender.

Preheat oven to 400°F

Once potatoes are cooked and cooled cut each one in half and cut a small slice off of the rounded end so the potato can sit up.

Scoop out the inside of each potato half, saving the potato insides in a bowl.

Add cheese, corned beef, butter to the bowl with the saved potato insides. Salt mixture to taste. Also sprinkle some salt over the potato halves.

Scoop mixture into potato halves and then place them on a baking sheet.

Place baking sheet in oven for 10 minutes.

Remove from oven and serve.

Garnish with sour cream and chives (optional)

Sky Watch

Venus remains glued in place as a brilliant morning star all month, low in the southeast at around 6:30 a.m. Look to Venus's right on the 7th, from 5:45 to 6:00 a.m., to see the hair-thin waning crescent Moon – in between them is Mercury. At dawn on the 21st, Venus closely meets Saturn very low in the east; use binoculars for viewing. Between midnight and dawn on the 25th, a penumbral eclipse of the moon occurs, but this is the type of eclipse in which the appearance of the full Moon doesn't noticeably change. On the 29th at 6:30 a.m., look for Saturn halfway between low and brilliant Venus and higher and much dimmer Mars. Spring begins with the vernal equinox on the 19th at 11:06 p.m. EDT.

National Ag Day – March 19, 2024

The Agriculture Council of America (ACA) announced March 19, 2024, will be National Agriculture Day with the theme of "Agriculture: Growing a Climate for Tomorrow."

Activities planned for March 19 feature a virtual Ag Day program, and in-person events in Washington DC. ACA will invite students to interact virtually with legislators and agency representatives, delivering the Ag Day message. A core leadership team of college students will participate in the DC events, along with representatives of national farm and commodity organizations, representatives of the food, fuel, and fiber communities.

Jenny Pickett, ACA President says students from AFA, 4-H, FFA, and MANNRS participated in 2023 National Ag Day. "Students are interested in advocating on behalf of agriculture and their future roles in the industry. Their participation in National Ag Day activities provides a glimpse of the future of agriculture. It's exciting to learn from the students what they think agriculture will be like in the years ahead, and how their involvement will shape the industry and America as a whole."

According to USDA Economic Research Service* more than 22 million full- and part-time jobs were related to the agricultural and food sector, or roughly 10 percent of all US employment. On-farm jobs represented about 2.6 million jobs, or a little over one percent of US employment. Take that a step further, agriculture- and food-related jobs totaled more than 19 million.

"More and more, students and individuals are finding careers in agriculture. The industry needs scientists, biologists, food safety technicians, livestock nutrition specialists, arborists, conservationists – one doesn't have to be a farmer or have a direct on-farm job to be involved in the agriculture industry," Pickett says.

2024 National Ag Day marks the 51st year of the nationwide effort to share real stories of American agriculture, and remind citizens that agriculture affects everyone. "From the food we eat and the fuel for our vehicles, to the fiber in the clothes we wear, and the oil used to make kids' crayons, agriculture touches everyone in some way," Pickett says.

The National Ag Day

program encourages every American to:

- Understand how food, fiber, and fuel products are produced.
- Appreciate the role agriculture plays in providing safe, abundant, and affordable products.
- Value the essential role of agriculture in maintaining a strong economy.
- Acknowledge and consider career opportunities in the agriculture, food and fiber industry.

In addition to the events on March 19, the ACA will offer the Ag Day Essay Contest. Interested students would create video essays on the topic of Agriculture in the Future: If I had two minutes to talk to a farmer." The winning video essay will be presented on National Ag Day. Sponsorship opportunities for Ag Day 2024 are available. Visit www.agday.org for more information, or contact Pickett to discuss sponsorship opportunities, or with any additional questions.

Agriculture Council of America, a nonprofit organization composed of leaders in the agricultural, food and fiber community, organizes the annual activities which are part of a national effort to increase the public's awareness of agriculture's role in modern society. Get Inspired to Get Growing at Regional Garden Days

Imagine picking fresh fruit off a tree in your backyard. Or snipping fresh herbs from a potted plant growing on your windowsill for a family meal. Gardening is an adventure, and each spring is a new opportunity to grow.

Whether your garden is a few houseplants by a window or an acre in your backyard, or you are an experienced grower or still watering your green thumb, a gardener is always learning. Explore new gardening ideas and connect with fellow gardening enthusiasts at any of the two dozen upcoming University of Illinois Extension garden days and plant sales offered across the state. A list of Illinois Extension gardening days and plant sales is available in the 2024 Garden Days newsletter.

For decades, Illinois Extension has provided immersive learning garden days and plant sales to share research-based horticulture expertise and hands-on experiences with home gardeners in the communities they serve. The topics the events explore are as diverse as Illinois landscapes and the plants that grow in them. Each garden day is focused on providing topics that meet local needs, but many provide sessions on fruit and vegetable gardening, native plants for the home landscape, soil care, weed and pest management, garden tool care, supporting pollinators, plant identification, saving seeds and starting plants from seed, tree care, and themes such as shaded areas, small spaces, containers, and sensory gardening.

For more information on home gardening, connect with the experts at your local county Illinois Extension office. Many have help desks to answer specific gardening questions. Extension also has a wide variety of online gardening topic resources, including Home Vegetable Gardening, Herbs, Fruit Trees for Home Gardens, Small Fruits for Home Gardens, Mushrooms, Lawncare, Plants, Houseplants, Container Gardens, Youth Gardening, Flowers, Roses, Illinois Pollinators, Insects, Composting, Soil, Plant Problems, and Invasives.

For updates on gardening programs, subscribe to the Illinois Extension monthly gardening newsletter. Plant lovers are also welcome to join the Illinois Extension Horticulture Group on Facebook to share ideas and information.
